

Befort Law Firm, P.C. Civil Litigation

Jeff Befort is described as “aggressive and meticulous”, which is probably why he graduated from law school magna cum laude and was hired into the commercial litigation section of what was then one of the largest firms in Texas. He opened a boutique trial practice in Houston almost three years ago, and as one of H Texas’ “Top Lawyers” in 2009 and 2010, Mr. Befort devotes all of his firm’s resources toward obtaining optimal outcomes for his wide range of clients, which include individuals, small businesses and Fortune 500 companies. His 100 percent trial practice focuses on business and commercial litigation, real estate and construction litigation, and serious personal injury litigation.

Mr. Befort says he treats every case as though it will be going to trial, and thrives on maintaining a “creative and efficient approach.” “We do not believe in check the box, litigation,” he says. “Clients appreciate their cases being handled in an efficient and productive manner.” By often working on a contingent fee basis, where he shoulders the risk of litigation, Mr. Befort proves his commitment to winning for his clients.
